

Capstone Project - The Battle of Neighborhoods

Selecting The Ideal Location To Open An Indian Restaurant In Toronto, Ontario

Done By: Mohideen

Introduction

- Toronto is the provincial capital of Ontario and the most populous city in Canada with a population of more than 2.5 million
 - The food and beverage processing sector is Ontario and Canada's largest manufacturing sector
 - This results in high competition in this sector. Careful analysis is required for any new business venture.
 - Analysis allows risk reduction and higher percentage in business returns

Business Problem

- The Indian ethnic population has been rising over the past decade in Toronto with almost 80,000 people
 - Toronto has seen a steep increase in Indian restaurants
 - Location is key for the success of a restaurant
 - Business has to be set up in an area where there is high demand and less supply
 - Various factors can be taken into consideration like the ethnic population in various neighborhoods and the density of restaurants with each neighborhoods
 - The target audience are clients who want to open up an Indian restaurant in Toronto

Data Selection

To find the best location to open an indian restaurant in Toronto;

1. Data of all the boroughs and neighborhoods in Canada were extracted from https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List_of_postal_codes_of_Canada:_M.
 2. Data was processed and cleaned to extract the data of boroughs that contain the name Toronto in it.
 3. Geospatial data of the bouroughs was extracted from http://cocl.us/Geospatial_data.
 4. Pre-existing indian restaurants were located in the city of Toronto using the Foursquare API, with the category id:
4bf58dd8d48988d10f941735

Methodology

1. Extraction and processing of datasets from Wikipedia Page and appending geospatial data to the dataset

Discussion

- From the results, Cluster 0 (East Toronto) and Cluster 3 (West Toronto) are ideal places to open the business due to less competition
 - Cluster 1 (Downtown Toronto) and Cluster 2 (North Toronto) have high competition and poses high risk in opening up the restaurant there
 - Circles were drawn on the map to indicate possible location where the business could be set up.

Discussion

Conclusion

- The goals of the project were achieved to find the best location to open up the restaurant where there is minimal competition
 - However, to support the results several other factors need to be taken into consideration
 - This study could be part of a larger study, which could help an upcoming business to open up a restaurant with Toronto
